Long Lines Form At Teachers College The Parthenon

Seek Changes In Schedules

By JEANINE CAYWOOD
Teachers College Journalist

"I've never been so confused in my life." "I've been waiting here for three hours!" These were some of the protests heard Tuesday from students who attempted to make schedule changes in the Teachers College office.

Some students protested, others just waited, looking bewildered and perplexed as crowds of students pushed their way up to the table which had been set up in the doorway by office assistants.

Though there were large numbers of students requesting schedule changes Monday and early Tuesday, no changes were officially made until 1 p.m. Tuesday. Changes were made all week and will continue to be made until the 12th week of classes is completed.

Since Dr. Harold E. Walker, acting dean of Teachers College until April 1, was out of town this week, members of the Education Department signed the schedule changes.

Changes in schedules of the College of Arts and Sciences were made in Old Main Auditorium Tuesday. It had been previously planned for Teachers College changes to be made there also, but due to lack of accommodations, the changes had to be made in the Teachers College Office.

There were 5,000 schedule changes made last semester, according to Raymond Cumberland, assistant registrar, and the number of changes made this semester looks as if it may be near that. "There are entirely too many schedule changes made here," says Mr. Cumberland. "Many schools are not allowed to make changes at all."

Cumberland suggested that changes are usually made because the students want classes at different times, they don't like the instructor, or they are waiting for closed classes to reopen. He pointed out that many times the students don't notify the Registrar's Office about classes changed, and thus receive an FIW in the class dropped.

Mr. Cumberland added that the problem of schedule changes must be dealt with soon, but at present he is not aware of any plans being made to revise the system.

According to Miss Edna Ball, Teachers College stenographer, the main reason so many schedule changes are needed is that students rush through registration, failing to check their class sections and hours as closely as they should. Many times the advisers fail to check the schedules before signing them, and frequently there is an error made in giving out class cards at registration. Miss Ball believes that if registration were made more thorough, there would be less confusion afterward.

DEPUTY TALK SLATED

The Student National Education Association will sponsor a discussion of "The Deputy," Marshall's book of the semester, at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Campus Christian Center. A film, "Nuremberg Trials" will be shown.

Eric Thorn, associate professor of English, will lead the discussion group.

Greek Groups Elect Officers

Sororities and fraternities are now in the process of electing new officers for the second semester. Those that have been announced are:

Legislators Slated For Campus Visit

Legislators from the state Capital will converge on Marshall this weekend for a few days of relaxation and getting acquainted with the campus.

Those Congressmen who wish to come will have special arrangements made at the Hotel Prichard. After a dinner tomorrow night at the hotel, they will be the guests of the University at Kent State-MU basketball game.

This visit, which is co-sponsored by Marshall and the Huntington Chamber of Commerce, is to acquaint the legislators with the needs and the problems of our school.

Buffalo May Soon Trample MU Foes

Marshall may have a nomination for a mascot before basketball season is over.

The commissioner of athletic affairs, Steve Goodman, Huntington junior, said Wednesday that the Robe, men's honorary fraternity, has agreed to purchase a buffalo costume to be worn at basketball and football games.

The one-man buffalo outfit will cost the fraternity about $200, Goodman reported, and he said he hoped the costume could be acquired before the final home basketball game.

SOME ANGRY, SOME bewildered, students stand in line waiting to get into the Teachers College Office and get their schedules changed. Changes were made all week and will continue to be made until the 12th week of the semester.

Greek Rushing Begins Next Week With Coke Parties And Smokers

Formal rush begins Sunday with open houses at the individual sorority houses.

All rushees are to meet in front of the Student Union at 1 p.m. Sunday. Proper attire will be church clothes.

Women who did not sign the rush book by yesterday's deadline may attend the open houses. If they wish to have their name entered into the Panhellenic list, they may tell any member of a sorority. The sorority member will add the name to the Dean of Women's Office. Also women who have not signed the book may be invited and attend Coke parties. They will also have to have their name submitted to the book by a sorority member.

All sororities will have openings this semester. Thirty-six had signed the rush book in the office of the Dean of Women at the time of publication. Last year 52 had signed by the end of the signing period. According to the office of the Dean of Women rush will be smaller this semester than it was last year second semester.

Women must have a 2.2 average for the previous semester to be eligible to rush and must not be on academic probation. In-coming freshman women wishing to rush are not eligible if on academic warning.

Coke parties at individual sorority houses begin on Tuesday and end Thursday. Preference slips will be signed Feb. 19 in the Dean of Women's office between 8 a.m. and noon. Bids go out at 4 p.m. on Friday.

Invitations to Coke parties will be extended personally or by telephone.

Proper attire for Coke parties will be school clothes. Each sorority will have two Coke parties each night of rush. Tuesday through Thursday. The times will be from 4 p.m. until 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m.

Sororities will be allowed to invite girls informally to the house up to the time of open house and sorority girls are allowed to eat in the cafeteria. Sorority girls are also allowed to meet informally with rushees until the silence period begins. Sorority girls are allowed in the dormitories during the whole rush period. These rules were changed to meet the requirements of the sorority members.

It may be a bit hazy next week on campus but the haze won't be due to any natural phenomenon — next week is fraternity smoker week.

Nine fraternities will be "firing up" next week in an effort to explain their fraternities at get-togethers beginning Monday and continuing through Thursday.

The smokers will begin Monday with three of the events planned. All smokers will be held at the respective fraternity houses except the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity which will hold its smoker Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Science Hall Auditorium.

Other smokers planned are: Monday Alpha Sigma Phi, 7 p.m.; Kappa Alpha Order, 9 p.m.; Tuesday, Tau Kappa Epsilon, 7 p.m. and Lambda Chi Alpha, 9 p.m.; Wednesday, Pi Kappa Alpha, 7 p.m. and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 9 p.m.; and Thursday, Zeta Beta Tau, 7 p.m. and Sigma Phi Epsilon, 9 p.m.

Bids will be distributed Friday from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the science hall auditorium.

Three Music Professors To Pick Members Of All-State Band

Drs. Eddie C. Bass, Howard L. Bell, and Thomas O'Connell of the Music Department have been selected by the State Bandmasters' Association to choose the members of the All-State band.

Professors O'Connell, Bass and Bell have traveled to Moundsville, Fairmont, Charleston, and Bluefield in the past month conducting auditions. According to Professor Bell, 85 to 90 students will be selected to play in the All-State Band Concert at Clarksburg on March 26. Over 600 students have been auditioned and final selections will be announced the latter part of this month.

In other music department activities, a "Hootenanny Sing" will be presented as half-time entertainment for the Big Green-Kent State game tomorrow night by a large pep band, according to Professor Bell.

The press box side of the field house will sing "Down in the Valley," accompanied by the band. Then the student side will sing "Tom Dooley." Concluding the program, the entire audience will sing "West Virginia Hills."

SENATE VACANCY

A sophomore with a 2.0 overall average and interested in student government is eligible to become a candidate for a vacant sophomore senator post.

Those interested should contact Nancy Glaser, sophomore class president before 4 p.m., today, for consideration for this position. President Glaser will make the appointment, and her choice must be ratified by the Senate before it is official.

Social Activities Are Shaping Up

Roaming The Green

By CONNIE BURGESS
Society Editor

With the advent of a new semester, there is a revival in the social life on campus. This weekend there is everything from a indoor weiner roast to activation and initiation.

Zeta Beta Tau fraternity is in the limelight this weekend with the new name of Gamma Epsilon of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity. The ZBT's will go national this Sunday at the Hotel Frederick at 5 p.m. After the installation ceremonies, there will be a reception and a banquet at the hotel where President Stewart H. Smith, John E. Shay, dean of men, and the national executive secretary of ZBT will be the guest speakers.

Tonight the ZBT's will have a dance at the Holiday Inn from 8 p.m. until midnight with the Impalas providing the music. Brothers from other chapters throughout the country will be guests at the dance.

Tomorrow morning there will be a brunch at the ZBT house from 9 a.m. until 11a.m. In the afternoon the brothers will show their guests around campus.

The installation ceremony will be under the direction of Jack London, national president, Barry Siegel, executive secretary, Martin M. Halpern, and James E. Greer Jr., field secretaries, and Dr. Lincoln M. Polan, David Caplan, Nelson Cohen, Robert Silverstein, and Mark Schaul, chapter trustees.

Special guests will include Mayor J. B. Meek and E. Henry Broh, city attorney of Huntington, Mayor Bachrach of Cincinnati, Ohio, the Rev. William L. Gardner and Rabbi Frank N. Sundheim of Huntington.

Ten chapter members of Delta Zeta sorority reported a good time during the semester break. These DZ's rented two cabins at Blackwater Falls and enjoyed skiing for a week. There were no casualties reported.

Alpha Xi Delta sorority will all be decked out in costumes tonight for the "Storybook Stumble." The informal dance will be held at the American Legion from 9 p.m. until midnight. The Lancers will provide the music.

There will be a work party for pledges and actives at the Alpha Xi house tomorrow at 9 a.m.

The Sigma Kappa's will have an informal gathering at the chapter house tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. until noon.

Sigma Sigma Sigma will have initiation at 6 p.m. today at the chapter house. Twenty - four pledges will go active. They are Becky Baker, Jackie Bernard, Judy Bolash, Patty Clifford, Linda Crotty, Diane Dixon, Marsha Dowler, Carol Durfee, Claudia Gilliam, Sallie Jones, Shirley Layne, Phyllis Manners, Caroline Massey, Karen Martin, Becky Mayo, Connie Miller, Lynn Richardson, Marlene San Julian, Mary Seaman, Patty Stevens, Jane Swiger, Lynn Tinchler, Linda Ward and Carol Weiler.

In honor of its newly initiated members Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity will hold its first party of the new semester at the house from 8 p.m. until midnight tomorrow.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's brothers will go to R&K Pizza Parlor Saturday after the game.

It's not the Ides of March, but beware of the Romans on campus. Lambda Chi Alpha will have its annual Roman Holiday at the house from 8 p.m. until midnight today. The Echos will provide the music. A Roman king and queen will be chosen.

The Lambda Chi will have date night at the game tomorrow and then travel back to the house for an informal gathering.

Brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will have a house party today from 8 p.m. until midnight. Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Johnson Memorial Methodist Church the SAE's will initiate 30 active members.

After the activation ceremonies there will be an open house given by the brothers of SAE from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m. All faculty and students are invited to attend.

The Pikes will have a weiner roast at the house tonight for all actives, pledges and rushees. From the house they will go with dates to Meadowbrook.

Tomorrow night the Bowery Ball will be held at Fraternal Hall, sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha. The Collegiates will play.

Eight pledges of Kappa Alpha Order will be initiated tonight at the house at 7 p.m. The pledges finished their project this week which was to paint the basement and to panel the chapter room.

A "Playmate of the Year" will be chosen by Tau Kappa Epsilon tonight at their Playboy Party. The party will be held at Stark's Floor Town from 8 p.m. until midnight.

The Teke's will have a stag party tomorrow night after the game in the basement of the house.

2 Students Invited To Join Peace Corps

By KENNY LEE BURGESS
Feature Writer

Among the Marshall students who have taken the exam and applied for work with the Peace Corps, John Hoover, Huntington senior, and Kenneth Cohen, Wheeling senior, are among those accepted. They have been issued an "invitation" to begin training upon graduation.

John, who received his acceptance just before Christmas, will leave for his first period of training in June. His plans are still indefinite and as yet he doesn't know where he will be going or the exact date of his departure. "They told me not to worry about this yet," he said, "so I'm not doing any planning at all. I'll just wait and see what develops."

Kenny was accepted last year, two months after he took the test. He said, "At first I really didn't take it seriously. The only reason I took the test was because the representative from the Peace Corps came into one of my classes and commented on the way Marshall students weren't taking the test. He said Marshall was the worst school that he had visited. So I went over and took the test. Then I began to look into all respects of the program and I realized what a good thing it was, especially for students who have nothing to tie them down after they graduate."

Neither of the men know the location where they will finally be sent. This will be decided during their training program, but they do have somewhat of a choice. They may list their choices and also list the countries where they would not be willing to serve. They will serve where they are most needed, in the particular field which they are capable of filling.

John says that he would like to serve in Ethiopia, and Kenny feels that he will probably go somewhere in South America.

The capacity in which the men will work will also be decided during the training period. Both of them feel that they will probably be teaching, but they say that if they have the ability and are needed in some other field, the will fulfill the job that is required.

Students who are interested in the Peace Corps program may obtain additional information and a questionnaire from the post office, by writing the Peace Corps office in Washington, D.C. or by contacting Edward Glasgow, assistant professor of English, who is representative for the Peace Corps at Marshall.

Professor Glasgow said that at the present time many students are being accepted since the first large group of volunteers are returning and replacements are needed. He went on to say that approximately 1,800 invitations had been issued before Christmas.

According to Professor Glasgow, the first thing an applicant must do is fill out the questionnaire. This may be turned in at the same time he takes the exam. It is not a question of passing or failing the exam, for the purpose of this test is to find out what each person, with proper training, would be able to do and what he is not capable of doing.

"It could be compared to an aptitude test," said Professor Glasgow.

After taking the exam the applicant begins a period of waiting. Sometimes it is very short, as in Kenny's case, but at other times it is a long wait. During this time each applicant is checked thoroughly. Then, if the applicant looks like the type of person that is wanted and needed at that time, he is issued an invitation to begin training.

The volunteer begins his training at a university in the United States. During this 6-8 weeks he goes through mainly a mental training program. He learns the customs, background, language, etc., of the country where he will be working.

The next part of his training take place in Puerto Rico. It is mainly physical training and by the time he leaves here he is in top physical shape. The applicant also receives more training after he reaches the country where he will be serving.

During the training period each worker receives $2 a day. Then, while he is working, his salary is equal to the salary the natives of that country receive.

"This salary is usually small and one doesn't have the money to spend that they are used to," says Ann Kellerman, Huntington graduate student, who has just returned from the Philippines as a Peace Corps representative. Ann says that they don't need much money though because there isn't any place to spend it and the necessities are cheap.

Ann, an art major, graduated from Marshall and went directly into the Peace Corps. She spent her first period of training at San Jose State College, San Jose, Calif. Here she learned basic things, such as the language, customs, and culture of the country where she was going. She also learned life - saving techniques, games and had physical exercises.

She was sent to Mindanao, which is the southernmost island of the Philippines. Ann says that this is called the "Land of Promise" and is very much like our old west must have been. It is an open frontier with free land and gold fields (not gold rushes, though).

Since Mindanao is only nine degrees above the equator, the weather there is very hot and rainy. The average amount of rainfall is 110 inches a year and this causes the foliage of the jungle to be lush and green.

The same rain that caused the country to be so green also caused Ann to be terribly uncomfortable at times. The rain usually lasts 3-5 days without stopping and when it rains hard it blows through the roof. This is because roofs are made from nipa leaves so the house will be cool during the hot weather. Thus the house is extremely cool when it rains.

In Surigao, the town where Ann lived, she found the way of living extremely different from anything she had ever been used to. She had a maid to do the shopping and cook the food. This was necessary because food spoiled so quickly and there was no way of preserving it. Thus shopping had to be done every day and Ann didn't get home in time to do it.

School began at 7:30 a.m. and lasted until 4:30 or 5 p.m. with a break between 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The sun is the hottest during this break and everyone takes a siesta. Ann says that she took one, too, and really enjoyed it.

The food there was another thing that was entirely different. Ann ate shark, baracuda (fried) and squid (little ones) for the first time. She says that they were all good—until she knew what she was eating.

Fish was eaten every day because it was plentiful. A man selling fish would go through the streets selling fresh fish each day and one had to cook it then and eat it because it would be spoiled within a few hours.

Another specialty was sea cucumbers. Ann says that they really don't taste as bad as they look. All of the food that comes from the sea is plentiful as well as fruits that are grown there.

Ann says that it does require a great deal of sacrifice because you have to give up your own culture, privacy and just quit acting like an American. But she feels that it was a wonderful experience and says that she would do it again.

Christian Center Names Sunday Service Speaker

William Robert Martin Jr., assistant to the president and dean of students at the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va., will be the guest speaker at the Campus Christian Center during the 11 a.m. service Sunday.

"A Word From the Crowd" is the title of the sermon which will be based on scripture taken from Luke 23:1-23.

He was ordained an Evangelist by Hanover Presbytery and has served as assistant minister to the St. Cuthbert's Parish Church in Edinburgh, Scotland.

He is presently serving on the American Association of Theological Schools, the Pilot Study Committee for Financial Aid to Divinity Students, and on the board of trustees at Montreat College and Montreat Mountain Retreat Association in Montreat, N. C.

Within the seminary, Mr. Martin is responsible for student affairs and devotes a large portion of his time traveling to college campuses and local churches talking to interested persons about the claims of the Gospel ministry and the nature and purpose of theological education.

Mr. Martin has attended the Citadel in Charleston, S. C.; received his B.S. degree from Davidson College in Davidson, N. C.; his B. D. degree from the Union Theological Seminary in Virginia; an honorary B. D. degree from the Faculty of Theology, at Montpellier, Herault, France, and did his post-graduate work at the University of Edinburgh.

2 ATTEND CONFERENCE

Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs, and Joseph Okunlola, Nigerian administration assistant, are attending a meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teachers of Education this week in Chicago. Mr. Okunlola is studying administration at various colleges, Marshall's in particular. On Monday he will observe the administration of Central State College in Ohio.

'COFFEE HOUSE' DUE

A "coffee house" for university use is presently under construction in the Campus Christian Center. The area, formerly used as a classroom, is being decorated by persons from the University and is expected to be open for use by Feb. 19.

New Admission Standards OK'd For Entrance To Graduate School

By DOTTIE KNOLL
Staff Reporter

New admission and graduation standards have been approved by the West Virginia Board of Education for admission to the Graduate School, announced Dr. John R. Warren, dean of Graduate School.

President Smith said that the new requirements would be effective Sept. 1.

"The new standards are in line with recommendations of national accrediting agencies and with the trend toward higher selective standards of the leading graduate schools in the nation," Dr. Warren said. "These standards will enable us to continue to select only the best qualified students for advanced degree programs in teacher education and in other areas thus assuring that Marshall's graduates will fulfill high levels of accomplishment in the state and nation."

Under the new standards, application for admission must be filed in the Graduate School Office at least one month prior to the opening of the semester or term in which the student plans to begin graduate work. The applicants may be admitted with full graduate standing, provisional, special, or unclassified standing.

For admission to full graduate standing, a student must have a bachelor's degree from a recognized college or university regarded as standard by a regional or general accrediting agency. The applicant must have an overall quality point average of not less than 2.7 and a minimum quality point average of 3.0 in his proposed graduate major.

Provisional admission is for graduates of non-accredited institutions and others who lack undergraduate work needed for graduate study in the major field. Grade requirements for admission to provisional standing are the same as those for admission to full graduate standing.

Students admitted on provisional standing are not eligible for advanced degrees but may apply to the Graduate Council through the chairman of the major department for reclassification and acceptance of graduate work completed after satisfactorily removing all deficiencies and meeting all special requirements.

Unclassified standing is primarily for teachers seeking credits for renewing teaching certificates.

An applicant will be admitted on special standing if a study of his entire record shows that he could not meet minimum grade requirements because of unavoidable circumstances and if he appears to be a promising student.

To be admitted to candidacy for the master's degree, a student should have full graduate standing and a 3.0 average in all graduate work completed. To receive a master's degree, a student must have a scholastic average of not less than 3.0. All grades of "C" or less will be counted in computing averages, but no more than six hours of "C" may be applied toward the number of hours required for the degree.

'Nuremberg Trials' Film Set Tuesday

A film "Nuremberg Trials" will be shown as a convocation program at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Science Hall Auditorium. An Army Signal Corps documentary, the film has been rented by the English Department in conjunction with the book of the semester, "The Deputy".

According to Eric Thorn, associate professor of English, the film demonstrates through pictures the atrocities at World War II concentration camps.

The film will also be shown at the Campus Christian Center at 7 p.m. Wednesday, preceding an open panel discussion of "The Deputy," sponsored by the Student National Education Association. Professor Thorn will speak.

TWL Meeting Tonight

TWL, the Travel-Work-Learn project sponsored by the German Club, will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in Science Hall Auditorium.

Plans will be discussed for the possibility of group travel in Europe next summer for interested students.

According to Dr. Walter H. Perl, professor of German and director of the project, 25 students have made a down-payment with Travel Incorporated to participate in the trip.

The meeting will be open to all students who have registered or are interested in the project.

Six ROTC Cadets Are Given Army Reserve Commissions

Six ROTC graduates will be commissioned Second Lieutenants in the United States Army Reserve Jan. 23 at 10 a.m. in the Campus Christian Center.

The program will open with the invocation, given by Rev. Elmer Dierks. President Stewart

H. Smith will then address the graduates and their families. The graduates will take the oath of allegiance, administered by Lt. Col. Patrick H. Morgan, professor of military science, and will receive their Second Lieutenants' bars. The program will close with the benediction.

KEARNS RETIRED

Roy L. Kearns, a familiar figure on campus since 1951, has retired from his position as a watchman in the Building and Grounds Department after 13 years of service. The retirement went into effect Jan. 15. Mr. Kearns who lives in Chesapeake, Ohio was 65 on Jan. 11.

Children's Musical Slated Tomorrow

"Young Tom Edison," a musical for children, will be presented Saturday in the Huntington City Hall Auditorium.

Arrangements for the musical are being made by Adventure Theater, of which Dr. Eugene Hoak, professor of speech, is the president, while the Junior League of Huntington and the Marshall dance department are sponsoring the production.

Two performances will be given by a professional New York troupee: one for series members at 10:30 a.m., and another at 1 p.m. open to the public.

This musical has not only been acclaimed as entertainment, but it also has been accepted by education groups as a valuable supplement to the school curriculum, Dr. Hoak said. It is biographical, for almost every character in it is based on the people who actually worked with or affected Edison's life. The many amusing incidents in "Young Tom Edison" have been authenticated through extensive research and the play has the same professionalism and creativity found in the adult theater.

Big Green To Face Flashes Tonight

By DAVE COLLINGSWORTH
Assistant Sports Editor

The revenge-minded Marshall Thundering Herd will continue its Mid-American Conference wars tomorrow night against the Kent State Golden Flashes, a team that handed the Big Green a stunning defeat on a last second basket by John Schick 91-89, late last year.

Tomorrow's game is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Field House.

In the earlier contest Marshall had what seemed to be an insurmountable lead of 19 points with 15 minutes left in the game when the roof fell in and the Flashes sliced the margin with the help of Marshall turnovers and some hot shooting.

Since that defeat Marshall has recorded its first MAC victory, that coming over Western Michigan, while Kent has also downed the Broncos to lift themselves to a 2-5 conference record—good for fifth place going into Wednesday's game with Bowling Green. Marshall, on the other hand, stood in sixth place with a 1-5 mark going into a game at Ohio U. also on Wednesday night.

The Flashes have been improving as of late and have been hopping to even their overall season record at 7-7 against Bowling Green. They have been plagued by bad passing and ball-handling according to coach Bob Doll. The team has drilled hard in an attempt to correct these weaknesses.

The Flashes will probably line-up with Schick, a 6-3 junior and 6-2 junior Wilson Graham at the guards, 6-6 Fred Albrecht and 6-7 Doug Sims at the forwards and MAC high-jumping champion Norm Curry at center. Albrecht was the leading point getter for Kent against Marshall in the first game with 23 points, Curry and Sims scored 15 each, while Schick had 11. Tom Clinkscales who started in the first game has been removed from the squad for disciplinary reasons.

Marshall, which has been reduced to only nine healthy players, will likely use the same starting five that opened the Ohio U. game. Coach Ellis Johnson will go with 6-6 Jerry Katz and 6-6 Bruce Belcher at the forwards, 6-4 George Hicks at center, and co-captains Bill Francis and Tom Langfitt at the guards. Langfitt along with Bill Whetsell led the Big Green scoring in the first encounter with 22 points apiece, while Francis scored 16.

Whetsell has since been sidelined with an ankle injury and will not play tomorrow night. It was first thought that Bill would be out for the season, however it is now believed that he may be able to play some before the season ends in about a month. As if Whetsell's injury isn't enough, front line reserve Walt Smittle suffered a foot injury of his own in Saturday's game against Toledo. Smittle is expected to be back in action in a couple of weeks.

As a result of these injuries Marshall's bench has been reduced to Levi Lauvray, Jim Odum, Bill Treacy, and Keith Blankenship.

Going into the Ohio U. game Francis was the Herd's leading scorer with an average of 21.4 points per game. Langfitt, who has been on a scoring spree of late, is hitting at 21 points per contest.

REPLACEMENTS — Slated to take the place of Bob Redd in Marshall's freshman lineup for the remainder of the season are Glen Justice (left) or Jim Jordan. "Both are about the same as far as ability is concerned," Coach Sonny Allen said. Justice, known as "J-G" for obvious reasons was slated to start against Ohio U. last Wednesday as the freshmen went after their 15th straight victory.

Jim Marnell Captures Union Chess Crown

By ROGER BAILEY
Teachers College Journalist

Many and various tournaments have been held in Shawkey Student Union this semester under the direction of union manager, John Beaver, Beckley senior. While a few of these have been completed, with the champions crowned, most are still in the process of selecting a winner.

In the first of the completed tournaments, James Marnell, Huntington senior, won the chess championship. The chess champion is to be sent to the University of Maryland to participate in the Association of College Unions regional championships. However, Marnell will not be able to be Marshall's chess representative as he is the eastern regional's ACU defending carom billiards champion and must participate as such in this tournament. All tournaments held at the University of Maryland during the ACU event will be run simultaneously. Therefore, the three other semi-finalists in this category must have a playoff to determine a Maryland participant. These include: Fred Smith, Huntington junior, Larry Arrowood, Huntington freshman, and Sam Zimmerman, Barbours-ville freshman.

The straight billiards tournament is now in progress with semi-finalists Dave Balderson, Scott Depot sophomore; James Marnell, Huntington senior, and Dave Silverman, Huntington sophomore. Other contests in progress are: table tennis men's singles, carom billiards, and the second round of rubber bridge. The winners of the chess, carem billiards, straight billiards, and the table tennis contests will be sent to the ACU tournament.

The hearts tournament will again be attempted next term. Union Manager John Beaver also has other tournament ideas which include possible checkers and women's billiards contests.

Trophies are given to the champion of each tournament category.

Marshall Matmen Face E. Kentucky In Saturday Tilt

Marshall's wrestling team goes back into action again this Saturday in a match at Eastern Kentucky.

The Big Green, whose record is two wins and six losses thus far, is now preparing for the Mid-American Conference Championships which are to be held at Gullickson Hall March 5-6. Their match this Saturday is to be followed by two matches away and one home contest with Morehead State Teachers College Feb. 20, at 3 p.m.

In the championships, Marshall does not carry as good a record as some of the more stronger teams but hopes to finish high among the finalists. Injuries have hurt Marshall in two classes yet they have strong contenders in others.

Bob Pruett in the heavyweight division and Larry Coyer in the 177 pound class both have good chances in their division. Others who have looked good this season are John Tolar, 167 pound class and Bob Lambert, 157 pound class.

Football Future Bright With 18 New Recruits

Football Coach Charlie Snyder and assistants who have recruited 18 candidates for next year's freshman football team to date, are expecting another winning team for the future.

Coach Snyder, who will sign between eight and 10 more players, stated, "I believe we already have a good nucleus of players signed for next year's freshman football team and the future for recruiting football talent at Marshall is looking brighter. Quarterback and halfback are the strong positions so far with Charlie Jones, second team all-stater from Logan High School, the brightest prospect of the group. We are tickled to death to have him."

The 18 players who have signed scholarships are: Halfbacks—Charlie Jones of Logan; James Brandt and George Hummel of Logan, O.; and Charles Jerrome of Wheeling. Fullbacks — Dale Brenning of Logan, O.; Gene Phillips of Belfry, Ky., and Dave Boher of New Martinsville. Quarterbacks—James Gilbert of New Martinsville; David White of Sissonville and Neil Smith of Pikeville, Ky. Ends—Joe Rabusky of Wheeling and Jim Keller of Middlebourne. Tackles—Ken Rollins of Buffalo; Tom Hilton of Clarksburg; Dennis Caldwell of Wheeling; and Jim Shepherd of Wellston, O. Guards—James Starkey of New Martinsville; and Gale Smith of Parkersburg.

No centers have been signed for the team.

More Student Parking On Campus Planned

Charles S. Szekely, superintendent of buildings and grounds, has confirmed that there will be additional student-faculty parking spaces on campus next fall. The parking spaces will be located between 19th and 20th Streets on Virginia Avenue and will be designated as Area G. The area will be acquired in July. The number of spaces is not yet known. One section of the new area

Coed Dormitory Space Needed

Dean Buskirk predicts that Marshall will need dormitory accommodations for 730 more women by 1970. At present there are accommodations for 620 women in dormitories and 100 in sorority houses. According to Dean Buskirk's figures there may be 1,350 women applying for on-campus housing by 1970 and 2,100 by 1980. The Dean of Women arrived at these figures by comparing the last three years and comparing the growth of Huntington to that of Marshall. The number of women living at home and attending Marshall in 1961 was 528; in 1962, 553, and in 1963, 557. The number of women commuting and living in boarding houses and apartments increased at this same rate. Considering the growth of Huntington these figures should keep on increasing at the same rate. For example, the prediction is that in 1970, 600 women will be living at home. The rate of enrollment at Marshall though is moving at a much more rapid pace. When the new building is completed on the northwest corner of the campus, the old music hall will be torn down for a new women's dorm. But even this will not be able to accommodate the additional 730 women expected in 1970. The only answer to this critical problem, according to Dean Buskirk, is the land east of 18th Street, owned by the University.

Alumna's Article Used In Magazine

Marshall alumna Mrs. Sharon Workman Corsiglia is the author of "How I Learned to Keep House — and My Self-respect Too," an article which appeared in the February issue of "Family Circle" magazine. Mrs. Corsiglia is a former editor of The Parthenon and afterwards worked for the "Herald-Advertiser," and as magazine reporter for five years. On a world tour she visited 20 countries, after she worked as intelligence analyst for two years in Japan. Currently she is doing part-time writing at "Life," as well as being the mother of three children. Now living in Rowayton, Conn., Mrs. Corsiglia is formerly from Huntington, where her mother still teaches at Washington School. Mrs. Corsiglia will have another article appearing soon in "Sports Illustrated."

TOURNAMENTS SET

Women interested in entering the WRA bowling and badminton tournaments please sign up on the bulletin board in the women's gym. These tournaments will begin in two weeks.

will be given to buildings and grounds for construction of a maintenance building. Outstanding achievement awards during 1964 were presented by Mr. Szekely to the following persons at an annual Christmas party: honor awards — Carnell Snow, head custodian; John Priddy, campus patrolman, and Floyd McSweeney, painter. Northcott Hall outstanding achievement awards: Leonard Kipp, Florence Parks and John Ross. Mr. Szekely said of the awards: "It was with great pleasure to give outstanding achievement awards to the top custodian team in the New Men's Residence Hall who achieved top performance for the third straight year." Those honored for the New Men's Residence Hall were: Robert Crews Jr., Mrs. Virginia M. Davis, Alma Mae Newton and Miss Carmen K. Savage.

BUILDING PLANS OK'D

At a recent meeting of the West Virginia Board of Education in Charleston, three building plans were approved. Final plans were passed for the construction of a joint classroom building and music hall. The bids for the building will be opened in approximately six weeks. Plans for the renovation of Old Main and preliminary plans for a maintenance building also were approved. Bids on these projects will also be opened soon.

Royal Welsh Male Choir To Perform

ABOVE ARE THE members of the Royal Welsh Male Choir who will appear at the Keith-Albee Theatre Monday at 8:30 p.m. as part of the Artists Series program. Tickets may still be obtained at Becker Music Store.

Artists Series Features Male Choir

"An Evening in Wales" will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the Keith-Albee Theatre by the Royal Welsh Male Choir, a company of 45. The Artists Series concert will be the choir's first tour of America with the entire company. In recent years the Royal Welsh Male Choir has appeared in England, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. Queen Victoria granted the company the right to use the royal title in 1895. Since then, they have appeared before royalty several times. Narrator Peter Hydon will read from some of the descriptive works of Dylan Thomas to set the scene for an evening in Wales. The program will be conducted by John Samuel and will feature Esme Lewis, soprano soloist with a guitar accompaniment and harpist Eleanor Dwryd. Students who did not get tickets for the performance last Monday or Tuesday in Old Main may still get them at Becker's Music Store until 8 p.m. Monday.
